Building a More Connected Hybrid Workplace

Lumina Group is excited to launch the "One Lumina, One Direction" campaign to strengthen internal communication and employee engagement. As the company continues to embrace hybrid working, clear and consistent communication is essential to keep everyone connected and aligned with shared goals.

Throughout the campaign, employees will receive updates through newsletters, Microsoft Teams, the company intranet, and Town Hall meetings. These channels are designed to share important information, encourage collaboration, and provide opportunities for employees to give feedback.

This newsletter marks the beginning of the campaign and will keep employees informed about company news, upcoming events, and communication initiatives. Together, we can build a more connected, collaborative, and engaged workplace.

Issue 1 - Campaign Launch
